

Mississippi

After a decrease in afterschool program participation from 2004 to 2009, Mississippi made headway in 2014; afterschool program participation increased from 11 percent in 2009 to 16 percent in 2014. However, Mississippi's afterschool program participation still remains below the national average. Mississippi parent satisfaction with their child's afterschool program's quality of care and cost also saw gains, from 80 percent to 93 percent and 73 percent to 91 percent, respectively.
